

BUZZINE

Modern Culture and Entertainment

Dance Camera West 2007

Innovative LA Film Fest

Dance Camera West opens its sixth annual film festival at the REDCAT Theater in downtown LA during the first weekend in June, with Screendance: A New Visual Language--an international collection of dance on film. Opening night screening and party will be held on Friday evening, June 1st starting at 8:00pm, followed by two different programs on Saturday, June 2nd at 6:00pm and 8:00pm. Focusing on the collision of movement and cinema, these three programs showcase the most innovative examples of this new visual language of dance on screen from around the world.

Using the newest technology in media to push the boundaries of gravity and stretch our perception of dance and movement, the REDCAT programs present 21 of the latest experiments between movement-based art and audiovisual media from nine countries: Russia, France, Spain, Canada, Slovenia, Australia,

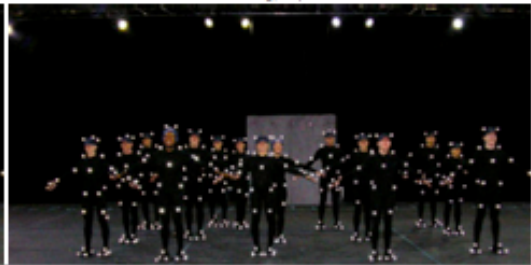

One Flat Thing, Reproduced

One Flat Thing, Reproduced

Happy Feet

Happy Feet

The Cost of Living

The Cost of Living

UK, New Zealand and the US.

A unique cinematic experience that focuses on the intersection of cinematography and choreography, the festival was just named by The Los Angeles Times in December as one of the top ten dance events of last year. DCW offers a full gamut of global dance experiences from this new innovative visual language. Partnering with some of our most prominent venues in Los Angeles, the festival will present experimental shorts, documentaries, installations, special presentations, and workshops by visiting international artists. This year, the festival also includes a very special evening honoring the craft of choreography in media.