

Film: Festival
Dance Camera West

- When Sunday June 21 (2–4pm)
- Where The Autry National Center of the American West, Griffith Park Campus (4700 Western Heritage Wy, 323.667.2000)
- Price $10
- Details http://www.dancecamerawest.org/schedule_2009_contemporary-sacred.html

With Contemporary Sacred, Dance Camera West deepens its mission to open windows for exploring films that broaden our perspective on dance's rich, multifaceted heritage and traditions — especially as it operates in tandem with other cultural forms. Bringing together two documentaries featuring First Nation and Native American artists Byron Chief-Moon and Jock Soto, this installment of DCW's festival penetrates the process and purpose of those with a commitment to their cultures, and to the traditions and rituals contained within them.

– Allen Moon

Get to know us

Flavorpill covers cultural events, art, books, music, and world news. Join now.

© Copyright 2009 Flavorpill. All Rights Reserved